

We Love Our Library!

Whether you have visited the Muskego Public Library before or this is your first experience here, welcome! This book will help your child become familiar with the library.

Reading this book before visiting the library will help prepare your child for their upcoming library visit. The pictures will help them feel comfortable with their surroundings and the words will give them an understanding of behavior expectations. Our library is a wonderful place that is free and available for everyone to use. This resource is our way of welcoming you to our great library!

This resource was developed by our Youth Services staff and was informed by The New Social Story Book by Carol Gray.

We Love Our Library!

This is the outside of the Muskego Public Library. We can drive, walk, or bike here.

The windows on the way into the library have a lot of posters to look at!

These tell us about fun programs that are coming to the library.

This is the library's circulation desk.

This is where we check items out.

The people who work here are helpful!

This is the library's reference desk.

We can ask the librarian to help us find books, movies, and CDs.

This is the entrance to the library's children's area.

We can play with the toys and read the books here.

We use our quiet voices and stay near our grown-ups.

This is the storytime room.

If there is a program, Ms. Abby or Ms. Jane will let us into the storytime room.

We cannot go into the room if there is no program.

We can find lots of interesting things.

The library has books, movies, CDs, audiobooks, and even video games!

We can check them out with our library cards.

The library has computers just for kids!

One computer lets us look for library items.

The other computer has games. We wear headphones when we play. We do not shout to our adult.

When we have picked out everything our grown-up will allow, we bring our items to the circulation desk.

We can make big choices!

We can use the self-check out machine or

we can hand our items to the person at the circulation desk.

No matter what we check out, we will need our library cards!

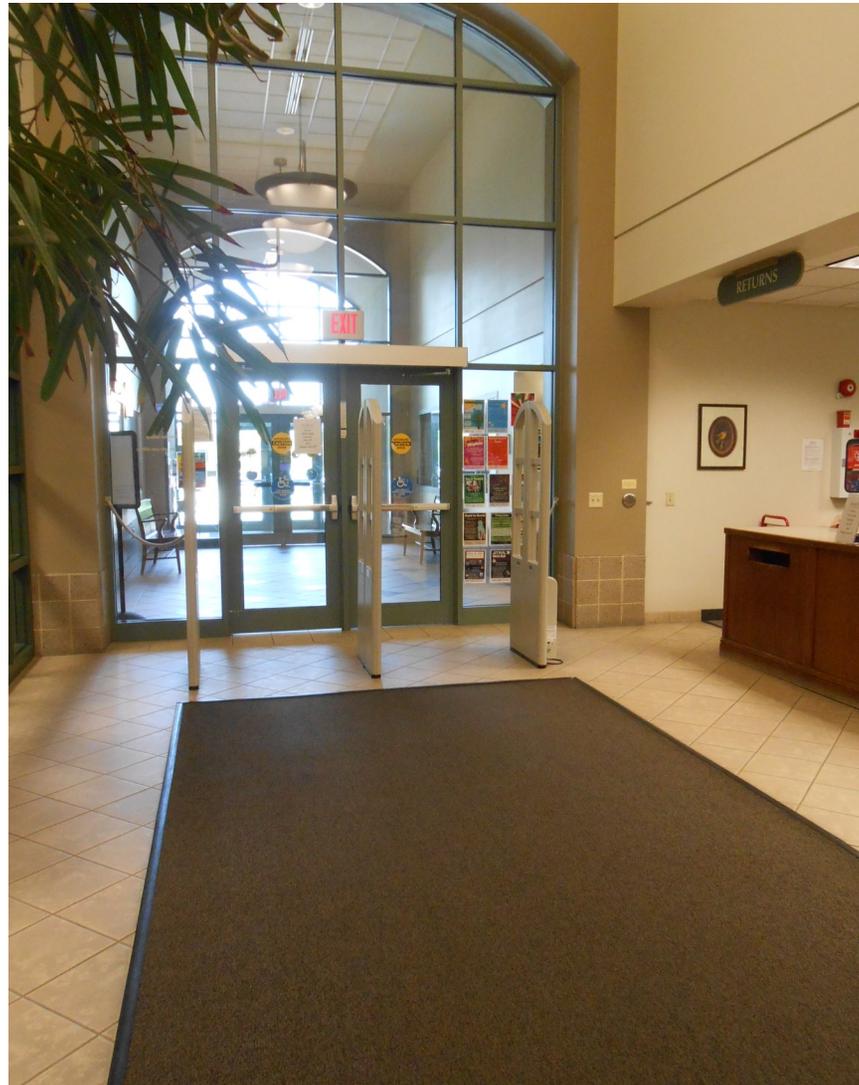

Everyone can get a library card!

We have to hold them tightly and do our best not to lose them.

They are very important!

After we check out our items, we can go back through the big glass doors and head home.

We leave, but we can come back to the library again!

We love our library!
