The Muskego Police Explorers are having a fund raiser in order to raise funds for their activities. The explorers are a volunteer group of young people interested in law enforcement. They travel to participate in competitions, paid for solely by fund raising. They are selling yard signs for $10 each, which you can proudly display in your yard showing your support for your local police department. You can also purchase blue LED light bulbs for $5 that can be used to show your support for your local police department. Both can be purchased at the Muskego Police Department.
