

CITY OF MUSKEGO POLICE DEPARTMENT NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH PROGRAM

May 24th, 2019 – May 30th, 2019

I took three days off and got two weeks behind. Riddle me that, Batman! I apologize for the delay, and I hope to get a second newsletter out before the end of the week so we can get caught up on the happenings of Muskego. For that reason, there'll be no extra paragraphs, just the events and stats. So, without wasting anymore time...

The area was checked, however no unclothed children were located. That sounds like a bad PSA. "It's 2:30 p.m. and 51 degrees outside, are your children properly clothed?"
- 3:12 p.m. – An employee of a business located in the S6600 block of Commerce Dr. called the police department to report a former employee and his girlfriend were causing a ruckus inside the business. I don't know. The officer directed Mr. Mirror, as we'll refer to him as, to the park bathrooms which in fact have mirrors. It was at this time Mr. Mirror became agitated and gave the officer a lengthy explanation detailing how his taxes paid for the officer's squad as well as the mirrors on said squad, and therefor had a right to use them (for future reference, that train of thought never works). The officer further denied permission, so Mr. Mirror began recording the officer from a nearby park bench (good for you). Mr. Mirror later approached the officer and requested a business card so that he could make a formal complaint, to which the

- officer obliged. If we don't want you using our squad mirrors, you're not using our squad mirrors, end of story, but good luck. They sell pocket mirrors at Wal-Mart starting at $5.37 on up.
