NA	There was one instance in which the datalogger recorded erroneous flare temperatures for the enclosed flare for a period of time in excess of 15-minutes.	Visual review of data	There was a period of erroneous enclosed flare temperatures (A) – (D) (i.e. temperatures locked at (A) 1,899 deg. F, (B) 1,882 deg. F, (C) 1,774 deg. F, and (D) 1,689 deg. F) due to a datalogger malfunction. The erroneous temperature data began while the enclosed flare was operating on 09/13/20. Site personnel confirmed that the enclosed flare was operating and a flame was present on the morning of 09/14/20. The enclosed flare was manually powered down and the locked up temperature readings continued for approximately 10 minutes at which time site personnel rebooted the system. The enclosed flare temperatures were properly recorded by the datalogger following the system reboot. No additional action was required.
